Program to "Talk Emergency Bill to Death" Leads to Spirited Fight
in Senate

WASHINGTON, May 29.—All eyes are on Senator LaFollette today, the fiery little statesman from Wisconsin having formed an alliance which promises to delay the final vote on the currency bill, and adjournment, at least until next week.
Allied with LaFollette in the pact
to "talk the bill to death" are Sena-

.....
URGES PUBLICITY.
WASHINGTON, May 29.—
Senator Beveridge renewed his request today for unanimous consent to take up the campaign publicity bill after the currency discussion is ended.
Senator Burrows objected and upbraided Beveridge for taking the matter out of his hands.
As chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, he said, it was his duty to make such a request. As he is hardly expected to make it, a few senators indulged in ill concealed smiles.

tor Stone of Missouri and Senator Goore. Senator Stone has just returned to Washington, and at once assured LaFollette he would accept his proposition to make a fight on the measure. Senator Goore added his assurances of aid to those of the Missourian, and the battle is on.

LaFollette Aroused.

Stone was only on the floor for a few minutes before he disappeared,
but news of his intention to join La Follette in the filibuster spread like wildfire. The democratic senators were much displeased at his reported attitude and will do their best to dissuade him from lending assistance to LaFollette. Although Stone was not present at the conference of democratic senators yesterday, his colleagues think he ought to abide by the decision then reached, which was that the democrats should exercise their privilege of debate, but should not filibuster or unduly delay the passage of the currency bill.

It is alleged the reason for LaFo-lette's action is that he had been promised he should have all of today
in which to see whether he could secure the necessary assistance to prosecute a successful filibuster. Probably through ignorance of this arrangement, Fairbanks, when the currency bill was laid before the senate, called for a vote on the adoption of the conference report. LaFollette happened at the moment to be out of the chamber, and if Culbertson had not been ready with his speech the bill might have been passed. LaFo-lette thought an attempt had been made to trick him in violation of agreement, and he became angry clear through and proceeded forthwith to start his filibuster.

Culbertson Opens Debate.
Senator Culbertson opened the debate. He said the amalgamation of the Aldrich and Vreeland bills provided for a dangerous inflation and a more dangerous contraction.

Senator LaFollette then made his appearance as a filibuster by demanding a quorum, which consumed
several minutes' valuable time.
Culbertson said fortunately for the country the administration of Roosevelt was near an end. He then proceeded to show what he termed the steadily growing financial extravagance of the Roosevelt regime during the past six years. He declared the expenditure for 1903 would be $110,923,707, greater than the total for 1902, and $272,625,828 greater

STATUE OF SEN. HANNA BY ST. GAUDENS, RECENTLY UNVEILED AT CLEVELAND

It is intended to place this statue eventually in the Mall, now being built, in connection with the group of Cleveland's public buildings. It is considered one of St. Gaudens's most remarkable works.

MONITOR FLORIDA, "OLDTIMER," WITHSTANDS THE CANNONADE BY MODERN BATTLESHIP AT SHORT RANGE

The monitor Florida is an obsolete war vessel, equipped with a modern wire cable mast, and reinforced in vulnerable places. The test to which it was subjected when fired upon at 300 yards by the 12 and 4 inch guns of the modern monitor Arkansas has attracted wide attention. The ship was not vitally injured, and the crew of officers and men who manned it were uninjured. They were below during the firing, but man-nins placed in the turrets showed no one would have been injured had the turrets been manned.

PROF. N. E. HANSEN VISITS PAMMEL'S

ENROUTE TO RUSSIA ON A GOV-ERNMENT MISSION

IS AGRICULTURAL EXPLORER

Wilson's Appointee Introduced Siberian and Turkestan Alfalfa into America

Prof. N. E. Hansen, wife and children of Brookings, S. D., are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L.
Pammel, 1218 Madison street, parents of Mrs. Hansen.

Prof. Hansen was recently reappointed agricultural explorer for the agricultural department by Secretary James Wilson, head of that department, and is now enroute to Russia in quest of new grasses. He arrived here yesterday, and will leave his wife and family at the parental home during his absence.

Prof. Hansen's present expedition is a continuation of a government program in which he has distinguished himself. He has made four tours of Russia, and had the honor of originally introducing a Siberian and Turkestan alfalfa into this country. Their adaptability to soil and climate has made their production
one of the most profitable industries of the northwest.

BLOODY WAR RAGES IN SAMOS TODAY

SMYRNA, May 29.—Consular dispatches from Samos late today say fully 150 persons have been killed in fighting at Vatsky about the capitol, and hostilities are still raging after four days' fighting. Koghassix Effendi, Turkish representative and actual ruler of the island, has taken refuge with the nominal governor, Prince of Samos, and a small Turkish garrison is defending them. They are killing the islanders like sheep, but lack provisions and are in deperate straits. Many of the consuls have asked for warships.

NEGRO WEDS GOTHAM SOCIETY BLONDE

NEW YORK, May 29.—Joseph
Antonio Maceo, a negro, son of Gen.
Maceo, the Cuban patriot, and Isabel Mackey, white and a decided blonde, were married here today by Rev. C. A. Fulton, pastor of the First Baptist church. Maceo is a student in the college of fine arts attached to Syracuse university. The expenses of his education are being paid by the Cuban government.

HEPBURN GRADUATES AS HOLIDAY ORATOR

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Col.
Pete Hepburn of Iowa, will not be enrolled among the Decoration day speakers tomorrow.
"Beginning with 1856 I made forty consecutive Fourth of July addresses," said Col. Hepburn today.
"Then I quit. Beginning with 1868
I made thirty consecutive Decoration day addresses, then I quit, and I think I ought to be satisfied."

FIND MORE FLOOD VICTIMS

DALLAS, Texas, May 29.—The bodies of Alexander Hamilton, Miss Bettie Stornes and Mrs. G. D. Whitfield, flood victims, were recovered today. This brings the death list near to the 25 mark. Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons were fed today by the relief organizations.

ACCIDENT GIVES CITY A HOSPITAL

MINNEAPOLIS WOMAN'S DEATH

ENTIRE PROPERTY IS WILLED

Trampled to Death by Horse and
When Will is Found; Unique Clause is Discovered

ALBERT LEA, Minn., May 29.—
Albert Lea gets a fine modern, completely equipped hospital as the result of the tragic death in Minneapolis recently of Mrs. Dorris Naeve.
The woman was knocked to the pavement and the horse's hoof struck her in the temple, causing a fatal wound.

Wednesday the incident was again brought to public attention by the contents of the woman's will being made public. The property left by Mrs. Naeve is valued at more than $10,000 and consists of an elegant house and beautiful grounds.

This house is located in Albert Lea and it goes to that city to be remodeled for a hospital, which is to be an institution up to date in every particular.

Provision is made in the will that the city provide for certain improvements and funds for that purpose are now being raised.

Mrs. Naeve was formerly one of the leading women of Albert Lea and when she came to Minneapolis
did not forget her home.

JAIL UNION MEN FOR CONTEMPT CASE

CHICAGO, May 29.—John R.
Britton, treasurer of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and C. J.
Grafie and George H. Lakey, business agents of the brotherhood of carpenters and joiners, were sentenced to thirty days in jail today for violating the injunction issued by Judge Carpenter restraining the brotherhood from interfering with the Mears-Slayton Lumber company, manufacturers of building material.
After the injunction was issued the union ordered a boycott on building using Mears-Slayton lumber. The attorneys for the union entered appearance for all of the 15,000 members of the organization.

DISCUSS STATUS OF SAENGERFEST

SECRETARY KIECK WILL AR-RIVE IN LA CROSSE TODAY

MEETING AN IMPORTANT ONE

Association Official and Local Officers to Meet Sunday in Big Conference

Secretary George H. J. Kieck of Milwaukee, secretary of the General Saengerbund association, will arrive today to attend the meeting of the officers of the Bund which will be held here next Sunday. Elaborate arrangements are in progress for the meeting and reception of the visiting officers.

Sunday morning a launch will be chartered and the visitors entertained in a trip up the river, where refreshments will be served.

In the afternoon they will be escorted to the Doerflinger "Bob White" farm, where the meeting will take place.

Secretary Kieck will submit a report of the general condition of the association with reference to the fest to be held here in July. Other officers will report on the progress of the Saengerfest. At the meeting in the afternoon the honorary vice presidents of the Saengerfest, Hon.
G. M. Woodward, Dr. A. Gunderson,
L. F. Easton, Geo. B. Rose, Sr. and
L. Pamperin will attend.

Assurance has been received by the local secretary that there will be at least 75 societies represented at the Saengerfest and Mr. Utermoehl is now preparing the program and expects to have it arranged within a few days.

HE PREDICTS JAPAN WILL FIGHT POWERS

VAN COUVER, May 29.—Japan is preparing for a clash with the powers and is not alarmed by the world tour of the Atlantic fleet, according to G. C. Druce, former mayor of Oxford, England, who arrived here today from the Orient.

"The Mikado is preparing for an emergency," said Druce, who thinks war between Japan and the combined powers is certainty and that Japan will not yield its supremacy in Manchuria even if the powers unite to oust her.

PASTOR TEARS DOWN CITY OF PITTSBURG

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 29.— Rev. G. L. Morrill of the People's church, created a scene at the Central high school today when before 3,000 pupils, just before the begining of his Memorial day address, he tore from the walls a calendar bearing the name of "Pittsburg" which hung between the pictures of Washington and Lincoln. "That name stands for everything un-American,"
he said. "I won't talk in a room where it hangs on the walls and disgraces the memory of two noble pa-trials." The pupils arose, and cheered for five minutes.

GERMANS WELCOME DR. HILL

BERLIN, May 29.—The forthcoming change of American ambassadors was characterized yesterday morning by the Tageblatt, the leading independent newspaper of Berlin,
in an article which welcomes the advent of Dr. David Jayne Hill, as meaning the revival of old traditions of republican simplicity in American diplomatic representation at Berlin.

SNELL WAS CRAZY SAYS JURY IN THE FAMOUS WILL CASE

RIGHTFUL HEIRS OF COL. SNELL

MABELLE SNELL IS CUT OFF

DESIGNING WOMAN WHO WROTE
"SOUL" LETTERS LOSES

Lemon Calls Her a "Bloodsucking Vampire"—Other Women Escape Exposure

CLINTON, Ill., May 29.—The jury in the Snell will case today returned a verdict setting aside the will of the late Col. Tom Snell, the eccentric millionaire who cut his son Richard off with a mere pittance. The jury held that Snell was insane at the time he made the will. Richard Snell now becomes heir to half the old man's fortune, estimated at $500,000. The other half goes to the children of Thornton Snell.

The verdict cut off the annuity of $1,200 yearly left by Snell to Mabelle Snell McNamara, author of the "soul" letters which were read by the jury. It is reported she is preparing to make a fight in court to set aside the verdict. Attorney Richard Lemon, for the contestants, exonerated Mabelle for the influence she exercised over the colonel. "Hell could not emit one curse so infamous in horrible suggestion," he cried, "as the language used by this woman in addressing Col. Snell. Snell was a sane man until he was seized upon by these bloodsucking vampires who drove him to his grave. One cannot conceive a beast going after its prey in a more ingeniously and revolting manner than did this creature,
known as woman, to seek out Col.
Snell and work his undoing."

Many Clinton women today drew sighs of relief when they realized that no other names would be drawn into the scandal. A score of these had written to the aged colonel, but the contestants decided not to introduce these letters in evidence and the present of the most celebrated of three great recent scandals. First was the Pet Magill case in which Fred Magill and Faye Gram-ham were charged with killing Mrs.
Magill; second was the Vespasian
Warner will case.

PAPA WAS GEORGE RIEGGER, NOT RITTER

Just because some names sound alike over a telephone, George Ritter, unmarried and today bashfully protesting his innocence, was credited last night in The Tribune with having assumed paternity through the birth of an 8 1/2 pound boy, and
Mr. George Riegger, of the Listman Mill company, is congratulating himself that the error is saving him some boxes of cigars. Had it really been Papa George Ritter, there would be another democrat in town,
but as it is the affable and estimable
Papa George Riegger, 713 Division streets, things are not so bad, for Mr. Riegger, Jr., is sure to grow up a "fair minded democrat," which means a LaFollette man and a good citizen. Too bad about George Ritter, but the congratulations are due to George Riegger.

And the cigars are on George Riegger, too.

BACK TO MATTEAWAN FOR HARRY K. THAW

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—Harry
K. Thaw will be returned to Matteawan, and will not be transferred to another state hospital. Dr. Albert W. Ferris, chairman of the state lunacy commission made this statement today. The state commission has supervision over the state hospitals, and only through its consent could a transfer be made. Ferris believes Thaw's case is incurable and there is no telling when he may have another outbreak. No legal steps can be taken without the consent of the state lunacy commission.

OBSERVATION CAR IN WILD DEATH PLUNGE

CONNELLSVILLE, May 29.—
Twenty people were injured, three probably fatally, when an observation car attached to the B. & O.
Royal Blue Limited left the rails near Garrett, about noon today and was hurled over a steep embankment. There was much delay in sending a relief train to the scene of the disaster, and it was nearly an hour before a telegraph station was reached.

The train was running on schedule time when the observation car left the rails at a sharp curve. On account of the heat the observation platform was crowded. Many jumped and thus escaped death.

AT POINT OF PISTOL PATTERSON
CARRIES HER OFF

IMPERSONATES U. S. OFFICER

Overtaken by Posse After Thrilling Chase—Opens Fire and Gets Bullet in Heart

GOSHEN, Ind., May 29.—After sensationally kidnapping Mrs. J. N.
Sargeant and carrying her off in an auto, W. W. Patterson was shot and killed yesterday afternoon by rescuers who caught him after an exciting chase in another automobile.
Mrs. Sargeant, who resides at Lake Wawasee was in Ligonier visiting the family of Dr. Frank and when she was taken she was en route to Wawasee in a carriage with the doctor.

As they reached the Ligonier city limits Patterson drove up in an automobile, stopped the Frank rig at the point of a revolver, compelled the woman to accompany him. Then they drove rapidly away. Officers were notified and Patterson was pursued in another auto.

With Patterson in the automobile was Landlord Hoover of Hotel Goldsmith, Ligonier. He had been told by Patterson, who represented himself as a federal officer, that the woman was a counterfeiter and he had a warrant for her arrest. Hoover claims to have been completely duped
by Patterson.

The woman escaped at Millersburg while Patterson was telephoning and sought refuge at the home of Charles Robinson. When Marshal Vandersmith and his deputies in the pursuing auto arrived, Patterson opened fire and shot at the rescuing party three times, one shot falling his brother-in-law, Ernest Frank of Ligonier, who was shot in the left leg. Albert Erwin, a Ligonier sa-loonman, one of the posse, then shot
Patterson through the heart.

Mrs. Sargeant refuses to talk and the case is shrouded in mystery. It is thought that Patterson meant to murder Mrs. Sargeant but his motive is not apparent.

Patterson and his wife departed about a month ago. Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Sargeant were intimate friends.

MURDERS WIFE IN PRESENCE OF CROWD

CHICAGO, May 29.—Infuriated by a remark made by his wife, Andrew Markle slashed her throat with a butcher knife, hacked her head and shoulders, then gashed his own throat. He fell across the body of his wife. A dozen persons, attracted to the Merville home by the woman's screams, witnessed the tagged. After cutting his wife, Markle waved the bloody knife at the crowd before cutting his own throat.

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 29.—(Special.)—The locals won the last of the series with the leaders yesterday by touching Bailliers for a total of 12 hits, one tripple and two doubles. Three runs were taken up to the fifth inning and then the Islanders let go and pounded the ball at will. Bailliers having poor control and accepted two errors. Vance was in the box for the locals and let "Pink's" batters down with but two hits. In the eighth inning singles by Becker and Bond and errors by Taylor and Grodnick gave the visitors three runs but Vance calmed down again and held them safe the remainder of the game.

Umpire Flynn mysteriously disappeared yesterday at noon and Eberly and Francis officiated as his majesty the ump. From the amount of wrangling their work did not appear to be satisfactory.

The La Crosse team left last night for Wausau, where they will meet the Lumberjacks for a series of three games. Eberly has been slated to twirl the opener for the "Planks."

Potter in No-Hit Game.
WAUSAU, Wis., May 29.—Madison's batsmen were powerless before Potter's pitching yesterday and failed to get a hit or score a run against Wausau. Only twenty-eight men faced Potter. Both teams played brilliantly in the field, neither side making a single misplay. Wausau found Nolden an easy proposition and pounded out nine hits which netted six runs. The score:

STATE LEAGUE PUTS UP GAME

The Wisconsin-Illinois league is putting up the best quality of baseball in the league circuits in the northwest, and many who follow the national game closely declare it to be superior to most of the major league article which has been put on to date. American association baseball by no means has a lead on the "W-I." league product, and had the teams of the Wisconsin-Illinois aggregation the name of world champions behind them their work would be more readily recognized for its true value.

The season to date has been conspicuous for its numerous low hit games and close fights. Three over inning games have been played and three teams have failed to secure either a hit or a run in contests, with the season but 15 games along. This does not always mean excellent pitchers and poor batsmen, as in the no-hit games the successful ones have not made high scores. The teams which have suffered at the hands of fellow members of the league have later nearly shut out other members showing that for evenness of ability, the league is exceptionally well provided.

This league last year established a reputation for the excellence of its games, and the prediction was freely made that this year's product would be much inferior to it, but the games to date have not alone been of much superior quality, but they have established records in minor leagues.—Wausau Record-Herald.

LA CROSSE AVERAGES WELL IN HITTING

With twelve games played the La Crosse team has an average of 7 1/2 hits per game or 83 hits in that number of games. Madison leads with 92 hits, while Rockford and Green Bay bagged 88 hits. Oshkosh is tied with La Crosse in number of hits, but only played nine games.

Saturday the schedule of hits was as follows:

Team.	Games.	Hits.
Freeport	11	54
Wausau	12	62
Fond du Lac	10	70
La Crosse	12	83
Oshkosh	9	83
Rockford	10	88
Green Bay	11	88
Madison	13	92

The average hitting for the entire league is 6.81 hits per team per game. The averages of the teams per game are as follows:

Team.	Games.	Hits.
Freeport	4	1-1.
Wausau	5	2-12.
Fond du Lac	7.
Oshkosh	8.
La Crosse	7	1-12.
Rockford	6	7-10.
Green Bay	6	10-13.
Madison	8	4-11.

LEAGUE GOSSIP.

The Rockford club just now finds it difficult to secure ball players without expending larger sums than are warranted by the gate receipts. A telegram has been sent to Pitcher Miller, recently dropped by Fort Wayne, making him an offer, but he has not been heard from. Charles Buelow of the Clinton club has been asked to let Rockford have Corkhill, an outfielder, and Egan, recently with Burlington, has been invited to submit his terms. It is possible that one of Freeport's surplus outfielders will be secured. One June 1, when the clubs are required to get within the limit, there will be scores of men on the market, but Rockford needs strengthening at once.—Rockford Register-Gazette.

Umps Killeen is a mighty good fellow, and now that he knows the crowd wants him to bench disorderly ones, he has the back bone.

No need of severity by the ump with the Freeport players, though. They have made friends here by their gentlemanly conduct on the field. They are the kind of men which, playing with a team like the lumberjacks, make for good, clean, enjoyable sport.—Wausau Record-Herald.

THE CANDIDATES

Luck seems to be against "Bill" Taft in the scoring preliminary to the big political race, a fact for which he must blame that "staircase" element of his own party which has been the implacable foe of his superior for some years past. Conversely, "Bill" Bryan is lucky. Both what congress has done and what congress has refused to do have primed his condition, until it will be generally conceded that he starts in this race against a competitor carrying more weight than he can cheerfully sustain. Add to this the fact that the mud-slinging writers and cartoonists are busily abusing Mr. Bryan, and his start seems a propitious one, for Bryan has proved a good "mud horse." Then, also, there's the labor vote and the "nigger" vote, declaring to a man to down the big fellow. He's a good man, "Bill" Taft, but he isn't exactly lucky.

The latest misfortune to which "Bill" Taft has fallen heir, and which is equally fine for "Bill" Bryan, is the report of the republican members of the special committee that has been investigating the paper trust, advocating "letting the trust alone" until some definite time in the equally indefinite future, upon the ground that to take the tariff off wood pulp might mean to injure a great business (the great business of the paper trust). Nor did those relentlessly keen democratic members of said committee neglect to bring in a strong minority report in favor of the immediate removal of this tariff, a thing for which the newspapers of the country are clamoring.

Ever since President Roosevelt announced the betrothal of "Bill" Taft to Miss Republican Nomination, the big war secretary has been a much mooted man. There were those who, taking "Teddy" at his word, or knowing, or thinking they knew, have declared "Bill" Taft a great statesman, a born leader, and all this and that. Others have scouted him for lacking those very qualities most essential to leadership. Recently one La Crosse gentleman (to mix the metaphor) declared he couldn't think of "Bill" Taft without associating him with a Mother Hubbard. One of the reasons assigned for this "Pink" Hawley's persistent refusal to pitch is that it is because of his distended equator. A fan has it that "Pink" pitched, and willing, until the managers about the circuit got onto the fact that he couldn't field a "bunt." Then they began "laying them down" to him, and every bunt was a man on first. Pink just couldn't pick 'em up, and so he quit. "Wait until 'Bill' Bryan begins laying 'em down to 'Bill' Taft," said this fan.

But that isn't conclusive. That was a nice little "bunt" "Bill" Bryan "laid down" to "Bill" Taft when he asked his co-operation in urging the passage of the campaign expense publicity bill, but "Bill" Taft fielded it like an old timer and cut the runner off at first with plenty of time for a double, had occasion demanded. Of course "Bill" Taft was only credited with an assist, Senator Burrows making the put-out by vouching for the correspondence. So it may be that "Bill" Bryan may learn that if he wants to win he must play a "hit and run" game.

As for "Bill" Bryan and what they say of him, what's the use? They are saying the same things they have said about him ever since "The Cross of Gold" was recognized as a classic. There are not so many of "they" as there used to be, but they are fully as vehement. As between the two men, what is said about them by their opponents doesn't cut much ice. Both are on the square. Both are big men. In choosing between them not only their attainments, but their environments, policies and methods will be weighed. While long in the public eye as an efficient lieutenant, "Bill" Taft is less known than is "Bill" Bryan as a leader, but in the limelight of a national campaign opportunity to secure any information that is wanting will be ample. And the outcome? Returning to race track parlance, that will be known when the wire is crossed. It cannot be denied that "Bill" Bryan "got away from the scratch" better and is crowding "Bill" Taft for the pole. Also he is getting his share of encouragement from the grand stand, and in all the races he has run—and lost—that is something new. His speed record is good, and his wind is proverbial. But as to "Bill" Taft, he has done some fast quarters in the work-outs, and "Bill" Taft has never been "marked."

ZODIACAL LIGHTS.

"That mystery of the heavens that has kept local scientists awake nights," said Attorney W. A. Powell yesterday, "is really as keen a joke as Nature has played on Uncle Sam in the year of our Lord 1908." The weather bureau of the war department, as quoted, was quite certain it was a cloud; the educators hereabout admitted it was there, but further "sayeth not."

"Well," continued Mr. Powell, "just to dispell the 'mystery' look up 'zodiacal lights.'"

Under "zodiacal lights" the Encyclopedia Americana says in part: "The Zodiacal light is a faint column of light rising from the western horizon after twilight in winter or spring evenings; and before day-break in summer or autumn. It extends out on each side of the sun, and lies nearly in the plane of the ecliptic. Near the equator it can be seen nearly all of the year, and has been traced all the way across the heavens from east to west, forming a ring. In our latitude it can seldom be traced more than 90 degrees from the sun. Parts of the column near the sun are somewhat bright, but distant portions are extremely faint, and can only be seen on the very clearest nights. Professor Wright, of Yale university, has determined that the spectrum of the light is continuous and therefore is essentially reflected sunlight.

Perhaps foreign powers will derive as much enjoyment as does Uncle Sam's navy department from the fact that the gunnery of our best modern war vessels cannot seriously damage one of our own obsolete fighting ships marooned, a helpless target, within short range of the attacking monitor.

With Tillman, Foraker and La Follette ill, the galleries of the senate of late have been empty. These men can always draw a house, witness the packed balconies during Foraker's recent presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The revised currency bill, not specifically but nevertheless positively, lets the railroad bonds again leak in as commercial paper eligible as a basis of emergency currency issue.

The English Again.

A lady, accompanied by her small son, was making various purchases at the army and navy stores in London. The boy grew tired and "Who are you buying those for?" he asked. "Why, for father," was the reply. "Father in heaven, or father in India?" the boy persisted. The lady mentioned the remark to a friend, who, thinking it amusing, repeated it to an Englishwoman at church a few days later. The Englishwoman listened sympathetically. "Poor woman," she sighed, "she was married twice."—Everybody's Magazine.

Brutal.

Mr. Justcott—Why, what are you crying about, dear?
Mrs. Justcott—Oh, George! The mice have got into the pantry and eaten up a beautiful custard pie I made myself!
Mr. Justcott—There, there! Don't cry over a few little mice!—Western Christian Advocate.

SPOTLIGHTS

The Van Dyke Eaton Dramatic company opens at the La Crosse theater Sunday matinee, 2:30.

The chorus of Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Ham Tree" in which McIntyre and Heath are the stars, booked for presentation in this city at the La Crosse theater, Thursday, June 4, is a remarkable one. It consists of young girls ranging from 18 to 22 years of age and young men not one of whom is over 22. They were carefully selected for their ability as singers and dancers. They introduce their songs and dances throughout the performance. The beauty of the girls and the attractiveness of the boys add a great interest to the production, which is recognized by all critics as the funniest now on the stage. McIntyre and Heath appear as minstrels in the first and second acts and as an Indian rajah and rane in the third. They, with Belle Gold, the comedienne who plays the role of Desdemona, are the only three black-face characters in the piece. All the other parts are white and are played by notable actors and actresses, among them Jeanne Towler, Carolyn Gordon and Alfred Fisher.

The Lamb's Lament.

I am a little woolly lamb,
My fleece is white as snow,
When I browse in Wall street's shade
My fleece is sure to go.

One day I met a horrid bear,
Who claimed to be my friend,
But while I looked another way,
My sides he deep did rend.

Oh! Let me feed by waters sweet,
Where tender lambs may play;
If I can claim my fleece again,
Wall street for me? Nay! Nay!

Waiting for Dinner.

When one is very hungry,
It's hard to wait, I know,
For minutes seem like hours
And the clock is always slow.

There isn't time to play a game,
You just sit down and wait,
While Mother says, "Be patient,
Our cook is never late."

It's best when one is hungry,
To think of other things,
For then, before you know it,
The bell for dinner rings.

Getting Even With Fra Elbertus

Elbert Hubbard says he was nearing the end of a lecture before 1,000 attentive inmates of a state insane asylum, when an old woman came screaming down the aisle:
"My God! I can't stand this nonsense any longer."
"That," said the superintendent to Mr. Hubbard, "is the first sign she has shown of returning sanity."

Baseballized.
"Albert," said the editor of the Bugle to the Baseball Reporter, "I see that Rev. Van Deusen married Jud Hicks to Susy Philbrick this morning. Write up a couple of lines about it."

Fifteen minutes later the baseball reporter, red-faced and perspiring, turned in the following:
"A tie game was put up this a. m. by Rev. Van Deusen who assisted a double play Philbrick to Hicks. The game was called at 10:15 and none of the decisions was disputed. Mr. Hicks' batting average, which has been tolerably high in the past, will doubtless be lowered considerably, though from reliable reports the young couple expect to make a home run in the near future."—Puck.

Jim's Bolt Machine.

James Livingstone now has on exhibition a full-fledged lightning machine, and amateur photographers who would like to secure photographs of a stroke of lightning in the very act of striking a pine tree, a wire fence or a chicken-coop have only to name the kind wanted, and Jim will arrange the scenery so that the machine will do the rest. We are not well enough informed in electric matters to attempt to describe the machine, but it is a contrivance gotten up by a lightning-rod factory to show just how lightning strikes places that are not protected with their particular kind of lightning rods. Jim has learned just how to turn the crank and make the bolts fly. He puts a miniature house on the platform, gives the crank a few turns, and small lightning bolts commence popping out of a big disc on the top of the machine which is shaped to resemble a cyclone cloud, shoot down on the house to the rods and then escape into the cellar, where we presume the bolts are canned. Sometimes he takes the house off and puts on a tin can, shaped like a smokehouse, but the machine lightning will not touch the can. The tin simply throws the electricity back into the air, in real life, so that it can go on to the next place and hit a tall tree or a church steeple. It's a fine machine to show the beneficial effects of lightning rods and imitates the real thing very nicely. The bolts can be made to strike almost anything except a merry widow hat. Jim hopes to get so proficient at handling his lightning maker that he will soon be able to show what would happen to a bolt of presidential lightning if it ever got near enough to Jone Cannon for him to grab it.—Jackson Co. Journal.

Some of His Meat.

T. B. Curran, formerly a member of parliament, said that a South Sea Islander, whom a traveler had brought home with him as a servant, in a local tavern was praising the British constitution when one of his hearers said to him: "What do you know about it? You're not an Englishman. You haven't a drop of English blood in your veins." "Don't you be so sure about that," replied the black; "my grandfather helped to eat Capt. Cook."—Reynolds's Newspaper.

By Way of Encouragement

"The manager always keeps back a portion of the villain's salary."
"Why does he do that—afraid he'd skip?"
"No; but he always plays his part better when he's mad."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MISS JEAN REID AND THE HON. JOHN HUBERT WARD

The date for the wedding of Miss Jean Reid, daughter of American Ambassador Whiteley Reid, and Sir John Ward of England, has been set for June 23. The wedding will be held at the Chapel Royal, in London, and will be attended by King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

These results of Charlie's inquiry showed quite plainly that his well-beloved was alive, and that she had been in Serbia with some secret object. The police were unaware of the exact address near the Botanical Gardens where the couple stayed. It is only within their province to watch suspected foreigners. Of Serbians they take no account.

Therefore, beyond the facts already stated, Rolfe could discover nothing.

Day after day he remained in Belgrade, sometimes spending the afternoon by going for a trip across the Danube to that dull and rather uninteresting frontier town of Hungary, Semlin, and always hoping to be able to discover something further—some clue to the strange disappearance of the Doctor, or the real reason why his Maud was so determined to hold aloof from him.

Thrice he received wild telegrams from Max Barclay, asking for information as to where he might best seek news of Marion. News of her? Her brother was just as staggered by her disappearance as was her lover.

He telegraphed that she might perhaps be at the house of an old servant of their father's at Boston, in Lincolnshire. But next day came a report despatched from Boston that the good man and his wife had heard nothing of their late master's daughter. Again to Bridlington he sent Max, to some friends there; but from that place came a similar response. Marion was, like Maud, in hiding! But why?

In the bright morning sunshine he strolled the streets, which were so full of quaint and interesting types. There in Belgrade, the gateway of the East, one saw the Serbian peasant in his high boots, his white shirt worn outside his trousers, and his round, high cap of astrachan. The better-class peasant wore his brown homespun, while the women with the gay colored kerchiefs on their heads wore their heavy silver girdles and their ornaments reminiscent of the Turkish occupation. Big, burly men in scarlet waistbands and fur caps, women in pretty peasant costumes from the distant provinces, officers gay with ribbons and crosses, and ladies in gowns and hats that spoke mutely of Bond Street and the Rue de la Paix; all were seen in the ever moving panorama of that cosmopolitan little capital where East meets West.

The financial business which Charlie had come there to transact had already been concluded, to the mutual satisfaction of his Excellency the Prime Minister and of the grey-faced old misanthrope seated in the silent room in Park Lane. Many cables in cipher had been exchanged and Charlie had placed his signature to half a dozen documents, which in due course would be countersigned with old Sam's scrawly calligraphy. The stake of Statham Brothers in Serbia represented considerably over one million sterling, and nobody had been more conscious of old Sam's readiness to assist in the development of the country's rich resources than his Majesty the King.

Upon a side table in Statham's study in Park Lane was a big autographed portrait in a silver frame, which King Peter had given him at his last audience. Therefore it was with feelings of gratification that Charlie heard from the Minister-President's lips the verbal message which the King had sent—a message of thanks to Mr. Rolfe for doing all that he had done to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement whereby with English capital Serbia's wealth was to be exploited and work provided for her industrial population.

Though he knew that Maud Petrovitch was no longer in Belgrade, yet he still lingered on at the Grand Hotel amid all its clatter, its bustle, and its music.

Truth to tell, he earnestly desired to obtain the truth from Sir Charles Harrison. For that dastardly attempt at Topsisieder a friend of his was responsible! It was the identity of the friend in question that he was deeply anxious to establish, so that in future he would know whom to doubt and whom to trust.

Was Max Barclay really his friend? Hour upon hour he reflected upon that problem. He recollected incidents which, in his present state of mind, filled him with misgivings. Why had he openly charged him with having been present at the house in Cromwell Road after the disappearance of the Doctor and his daughter? Indeed, had he not practically charged him with opening the Doctor's safe and abstracting its contents? He had not made the charge directly, it was true, but his remarks had certainly been made in a spirit of antagonistic suspicion.

A long letter from Max explained the sudden disappearance of Marion from Cunningham's, and begged him to give all information regarding any likely quarter where the girl had sought refuge. It was now plain enough to Charlie that his sister had been discharged from the establishment in Oxford Street—and in disgrace! In what disgrace?

When he read the letter in his room at the hotel, he crushed it in his hand with an imprecation upon his lips. Cunningham should answer to him for this indignity. He would compel the fellow to tell the truth. His sister's honour was at stake.

Disgraced by her sudden discharge, she had disappeared. She had no doubt been ashamed to face the man who loved her, ashamed, too, to write to her brother. Instead, she preferred to go away and efface herself, as alas! so many London shop-girls have done before her.

By MAY MANTON

6000 Tucked Blouse or Shirt Waist, 33 to 42 bust.

(To be made with tucked or pointed collar.)

The blouse that is laid in a succession of fine tucks is always a pretty one and it suits the thin materials of the lingerie sort peculiarly well. This one is further trimmed with frills and is really an exceedingly attractive blouse while it is quite simple and it has the great practical advantage of closing at the left of the center front. In the illustration the material is Persian lawn with frills of the same and trimming of embroidery on the collar and cuffs, but frills of lace and frills of embroidery both are in vogue, and a plain collar pointed back of the ears can be substituted for the tucked round one whenever liked.

The waist is made with the fronts, the center-front and the back. The fronts are tucked to yoke depth and the center front and the backs for full length. The center front is arranged over the front and stitched to place at the left, while the blouse closes beneath it. The sleeves can be either in elbow length finished with straight cuffs, or in full length and finished with bands and roll-over cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4 1/2 yards 21 or 24, 3 1/2 yards 32 or 2 1/2 yards 44 inches wide with 5 yards of ruffling, 1 1/2 yards of embroidery.

The pattern 6000 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measure, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

Only the Truth

Two tramps approached a railroad telegraph office not far from New York the other day and looked hungrily through the window, but there was not even a dinner pail in sight to induce them to ask for food. One of them finally tapped on the window and the operator left his key long enough to inquire:
"Well, what can I do for you?"
"Just report two empties going east," replied the tramp, with a grin, and started down the track toward New York.—Lippincott's.

THREE KILLED IN "Q" FREIGHT WRECK

TRAMPS ARE CAUGHT BETWEEN SHIFTING RAILS IN CAR

WRECK CAUSED BY WASHOUT

Freight Train No. 77 Leaves Track at Malden Rock and Fifteen Cars Pile up in Ditch

As the result of the fast Burlington freight train No. 77 leaving the track at a point between Bay City and Malden Rock at 3:30 this morning, three tramps were killed and several were injured.

Freight train No. 77 which has the reputation as making fast time encountered a place between Bay City and Malden Rock where the track had been washed out as a result of the several rainstorms that have been playing havoc in that section of the country.

The engine, which was occupied by Engineer Pratt, left the track, together with the tender and fifteen cars piled up. In one of the cars a number of tramps were riding and this car was filled with steel rails. When the rails shifted three of the "bums" were caught between them, and the side of the car, and were killed instantly while several were severely injured. What the names of the men are can not be ascertained at present and the details of the accident, more than has been stated above, are lacking.

Conductor Humphrey of La Crosse had charge of the train, while George Pratt was the engineer.

TRAINS DELAYED BY WASHOUTS

The Milwaukee road experienced some trouble between Lake City and Frontenac last night on account of washouts. Train No. 1 due here at 3:45 a. m. went as far as Wabasha where the washout was first reported, and returned to La Crosse in order to go around by the way of Camp Douglas, anticipating that the road would be blocked when word was received that the road was clear. The train did not leave here until about 8 o'clock, being nearly five hours late.

Little Journeys to the Tombs of American Presidents

JAMES K. POLK—NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

It is a rare honor for one city to possess the mortal remains of two presidents of this republic. Yet this is the honor which fate has conferred upon the municipality of Nashville, Tenn. Not only does Nashville give America the shrine of Andrew Jackson's home and tomb, but here also is the last resting place of President James Knox Polk.

The tomb of President Polk is within a few hundred feet of the equestrian statue of President Jackson, on the east side of the grounds of the state capital. Just as it now appears, it was formerly situated in the yard of the old Polk mansion, where both President and Mrs. Polk breathed their last. The old mansion has given away to a fashionable apartment house, but before the old place was dismantled, by an act of the legislature the tomb was removed, in 1896, to its present site. It contains the remains of both the president and his devoted wife. Over the stone coping is inscribed this caption:

"James K. Polk, President of the United States. Born November 2, 1795. Died June 15, 1849."

The heavy granite block above the States."

GALESVILLE AND ATHLETES TO MEET

One of the chief features of the program for Memorial day tomorrow will be the baseball game between the Galesville semi-pro team and the Athletes, one of the fastest amateur teams in this part of the state. The game will be played at the league park, and from the former records of the respective teams it will be one of the hardest fought contests seen on the local diamond for some time.

SOCIETY

CHINA SHOWER FOR MISS LULU PAGE

A delightful social affair was given in honor of Miss Lulu Page last evening, by the Misses Edith and Bess Cutting, assisted by Miss Meta Masueger, at the Cutting residence, 317 West avenue north.

The house was artistically decorated for the occasion with a profusion of red hearts, streamers and bouquets of bridal wreath. In the center of the dining table reposed an immense red heart, and from the chandeliers above, streamers radiated to the sides and corners of the table.

Each guest was given a key to the heart, but the lock would not respond to any but the guest of honor, and when Miss Page had unlocked it she found a lot of pretty gifts in china awaiting her.

In the living room were placed the five dainty tables at which the guests were seated. At each place was a bunch of violets to which the name cards were tied, while the bride's table was trimmed with bridal wreath. The following guests were present: Misses Lulu Page, Louise Harrison, Agnes Lang, Edna Darling, Maud Darling, Maud Loveland, Pearl Loveland, Sadie McCann, Jo. McCann, Jessie Asplin, Viola Haefner, Daisy Rice, Susie Trane, Nina Rau, Ethel Rice from Prairie du Chien, Edith and Bess Cutting, Meta Masueger and Mrs. Leah Calloway.

KREUTZ' ORCHESTRA TO BE HOSTS AT DANCE

MISSING BOYS FOUND.

Word has been received by The Tribune from the Evening Press at Grand Rapids, Mich., stating that the two boys who were reported missing the first of the week were found in Minneapolis and have been sent home. The youth disappeared from their homes at Grand Rapids about a month ago and the mother of one of them was in a critical condition from worrying over him. The papers of that city took up the matter and the finding of the young men at Minneapolis was the result.

A notice was published in The Tribune giving a description of the young men and later copied by the Minneapolis papers.

HEARST GAINS BY RECOUNT

NEW YORK, May 29.—Forty-one votes fraudulently counted for McClellan in the last municipal election on November 7, 1905, were found in the six ballot boxes opened today in the quo warranto proceedings before Justice Lambert in the supreme court.

These votes, with the twenty-seven which were found to have been counted dishonestly for McClellan in the first two boxes opened on Wednesday, makes a total of sixty-eight for the first eight boxes, reducing McClellan's plurality on the face of the returns to 3,406.

YEOMEN HOLD A MOCK TRIAL

Charles Willey, charged with the theft of a pair of trousers belonging to John Markle, was found not guilty in Judge J. M. Murray's court last evening after one of the most exciting cases that has taken place in La Crosse courts for years.

It was charged that some time during the month of May Willey did knowingly, wantonly and feloniously take one pair of trousers, the rightful property of one John Markle.

When arraigned before Judge Murray he pleaded not guilty and the trial was commenced at once. Judge Leonard Kleeber appeared for the defendant while Paul W. Mahoney acted as prosecutor. Scores of witnesses were called and testified both for and against the defendant but the main point of issue was what kind of trousers they were. This point, despite the testimony of Markle could not be proven.

After the final arguments the case went to the jury, which was composed of five women and one man. After some little deliberation they found for the defendant.

Dr. John A. Reese acted as bailiff. The trial was the "mock trial" of the Yeomen held at their regular meeting at Coran's hall last evening.

After the trial was completed dancing was enjoyed. Music was furnished by the Yeomen orchestra. The contest between the ladies and gentlemen for getting new members is to end June 25. At this date a banquet will be held that is to be furnished by the homestead. The losing side will wait upon the rest of the members. The next meeting of the lodge is to be held June 11.

GROCERS MARVEL AT "MARVEL'S" HOME

CITY DEALERS GO THROUGH WONDERFUL MILL

SEE THE MODERN PROCESS

Details of Workings of Mammoth Plant Explained to Grocers Who Sell Its Product

About twenty-five members of the La Crosse Retail Grocers' association were, yesterday afternoon, the guests of Manager George M. Heath of the Listman Mill and were escorted through the home of the "Marvel Flour" to witness the operation of making flour from little kernels of grain. The members of the association, headed by President James Murray, congregated at the Park Roller rink, from where they marched to the office of the Listman Mill and Manager Heath and Secretary William Hunt were awaiting to escort them through the mill.

The offices and business department of the plant was taken in, the system used by the company in taking care of its thousands of dealers was explained and the aptly was escorted to the stenographers' room where numbers of typewriters were clicking and the complete system used by the mill in communicating with the patrons was taken up. From the office the party was escorted through the main mill, first through the fire room where the latest invention of caring for the fuel is used. After explaining the caring of the engine room Mr. Heath took the party to the main engine room where machinery furnishing the power for the entire mill was in operation.

The party was next escorted to the shipping room, where the orders are filled and from there through the mill, and each process of the grain as it is ground into the various grades of flour and feed. For two hours the party was escorted through the building and the various processes explained. One of the most interesting mechanical devices in the building was the multiple electrical thermometer, recently installed in the building, and is one of the three now in existence in the United States. The thermometer which works on the plan of a switch board is connected with the large tanks in which the grain is stored before being used and through the invention the temperature of the grain at any point in the tanks can be ascertained. The temperature of the grain is taken daily and assists the company in turning the grain before it becomes overheated and spoils.

The trip through the mill was completed about 5 o'clock and the grocers were well pleased with the courtesy of Mr. Heath and trip through the plant.

FAULT OF PASTOR LOVE WAS BARED

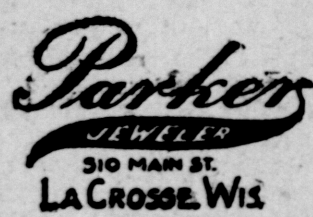

CHICAGO, May 29.—Miss Anna B. Whitmore, postmistress at Gray's Lake, Ill., didn't open and read the love missives that passed between the Rev. Charles E. Havenor, pastor of the Gray's Lake Congregational church, and his fiancée, after all. The postmistress was vindicated yesterday. It appeared from the testimony that Pastor Havenor himself had talked pretty freely of his betrothed, his approaching nuptials, and the difficulty of supporting a wife—and children—on $700 a year.

LA CROSSE RIVER RAPIDLY RISING

Battle Creek Specialist Offers Good Suggestion To Dyspeptics.

It is seldom that a great specialist will give away the secrets of his profession, but occasionally we find one who is more liberal.

A noted specialist on stomach disorders, dyspepsia and appendicitis says: "I always prescribe the following with the greatest success, for indigestion, acute or chronic; dyspepsia, sour stomach, distress after eating, such as heart palpitation, shortness of breath, constipation, depression, headache and biliousness. These simple but powerfully blended ingredients can usually be obtained at any leading drugstore, or the druggist can obtain them from wholesale firms who supply the profession generally with rare extracts and essences. Mix in bottle two ounces syrup of Ginger, one ounce Comp. essence Cardiol and two ounces essence of Pepsin. Shake well and take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal, or before, to excite the appetite, if necessary. For costiveness, a dose at night will do much good. Let children who have stomachache take this freely. Adults can find nothing that will do so much permanent good and at the same time give prompt relief from distress."

SEN. LA FOLLETTE LEADS FILIBUSTER

than for 1903. This was an increase of 43 1/2 per cent in expenditures, while the increase in population did not exceed 12 per cent.

During Culberson's remarks La Follette continued the filibuster by again demanding a quorum and obtaining a roll call. The third time he asked for a quorum Culberson refused to yield. A little later La Follette rose to a question of order, read senate rules and asked for a quorum. Aldrich and Nelson said the request did not involve a point of order and Fairbanks sustained them.

La Follette appealed from the decision of the chair, and read some more rules. He said a dangerous precedent was being established by disregarding the rules and warned those whom he said were combining against the people and ignoring their rights, that the time was coming when today's actions would arise to plague them. He said it should make no difference who asked for the enforcement of the rules.

Chair Is Sustained. Culberson expressed the opinion that the ruling of the chairman was erroneous. The chair was sustained by a vote of 32 to 14. Brown, Borah and Bourne, republicans, voting with La Follette. La Follette asked Fairbanks whether he intended to establish a precedent of counting a quorum, and Fairbanks read precedents showing that this had been done before in similar cases. The filibuster then subsided and Culberson resumed.

La Follette Begins Speech. La Follette took the floor when Culberson concluded and again forced the production of a quorum. He began his speech by outlining his position. He declared the bill was bad and shouldn't be passed; part of it had never had legislative consideration, he said. He then reviewed the history of the railroad bond feature. While speaking he sat on the arm of his chair, saying he must conserve his strength as he was just recovering from a protracted illness.

WILL IMPROVE THE LA CRESCENT ROAD

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon by the bridge and finance committee, and a trip was taken over the La Crescent road to determine what improvements are necessary. The needs of the road were brought to the attention of the committee by President Beckwith of the board of public works, who accompanied it. At the next meeting of the council the committees will report and recommend several minor improvements and will recommend that the road between the Mississippi river and West Channel be paved.

WOMEN DELEGATES TO DENVER

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., May 29.—Colorado may emphasize the franchise for women in the state by sending two women delegates to the democratic national convention. Following the movement in Denver to seat Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt there is a strong undercurrent among the democrats of El Paso county to send Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes of this city, the only living daughter of Jefferson Davis, to the convention.

WIND SWEEPS OVER THE CITY

CHICAGO, May 29.—The most violent wind and rain storm of the year struck Chicago at 7:15 o'clock last night. It lasted but ten minutes, but it attained a velocity of sixty-eight miles an hour and accomplished much damage. It was a climax to a day of freakish weather; intermittent rain storms, ups and downs in temperature, and fires, panics, and property losses consequent on lightning. Fourteen fire alarms were sounded in ten minutes from various parts of town. Just before 7:30 o'clock a huge metal smokestack on the Watson building, 125 S. Salle street, was blown down by the gale, and part of it fell against the Hotel Brevoort, smashing windows from the top floor to the eighth. Several employees were hit by flying fragments.

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28. (By J. C. Welliver.)

Under orders of President Roosevelt, a commission especially named by him is investigating labor conditions in the Panama canal zone. There is considerable wonderment as to the purpose of making the inquiry just at this time, because there has been little complaint of late and the improved conditions on the zone have done much to overcome the difficulty of getting labor.

Will Become Great Port.

More than this, it is reported that since the opening of the era of closer times in the states, more people are willing to accept positions which the government can give them on the zone. There is, indeed, prospect that a larger and larger proportion of the labor there will hereafter be done by American citizens. The zone has lost its terrors because of sanitation and the improvements the government has provided. It is realized that it is certain one day to be a region abounding in great business opportunities, for it will become one of the ports of call on the greatest round-the-world trade route save by Suez. The students of canal problems anticipate that the whole zone will be a great warehousing and transshipping region, where cargoes will be broken, big ships unloaded into smaller ones for distribution up and down the western coasts of South America, Central America and Mexico, and where in time an immense volume of traffic will be handled. All these conditions are expected to bring within a few years after the canal is opened, a time when Panama and Colon will be great commercial centers, emporia for the products of Central America, Colombia, Guiana and Venezuela, to all of which railroad systems are said to be even now projected, from points in the zone.

Labor Conditions Important.

Naturally, the general conditions of labor, and arrangements for living, are of the utmost importance in the canal region. The president's commission is composed of James Bronson Reynolds, Samuel B. Donnelly of New York and Henry Beach Needham of Washington. Mr. Reynolds made wide reputation as an investigator by doing the Chicago packing house "jungle" for the president, and finding it guilty; Mr. Donnelly is a labor leader and secretary of the joint board of arbitration of the New York building trades. Mr. Needham is secretary and manager of the People's Lobby at Washington.

The three gentlemen have been on the zone about two weeks, and will remain about as much longer to complete their investigations. On their return to the states they will make, it is understood, quite an extended report to the president.

A most remarkable illustration of improvement of health conditions on the zone is given by the figures for April, 1907, and 1908. In 1907 the April deaths among the negro employees on the zone were 49 to the thousand; in the same month of 1908 they were only 7 to the thousand.

Yet, curiously enough, the deaths of white employees in those same two months show little variation: In April, 1907, the death rate of whites was 10.61 to the thousand, and in 1908 it was 9.74 to the thousand.

It is pointed out from these figures that the conditions of living for the poorer class of people on the zone has been brought to such excellence that the deaths among them are now actually less than among the whites. Plague is rife at Guayaquil, Ecuador, and at LaGuayra; but no cases have appeared on the zone. There has not been a case of yellow fever since May, 1906.

CLAIMS OLD AGE RECORD

BLUE EARTH, Minn., May 29.—Blue Earth has among its residents 111 people who have attained the age of three score years and ten or over. Of this number thirty are eighty years old or over, and two, Hilton Tinker, aged ninety-five, and Mrs. Betsy Bartholomew, aged ninety-two, give promise of becoming centenarians. A careful canvass of the city's old people shows that the average of those seventy years old or older is seventy-seven years. The total of all their ages is 8,512. The city claims the state record, population considered, in number of old people.

NORTHERN GRAIN CO. LIQUIDATES

ORDERS ARE OUT CLOSING
HUNDREDS OF ELEVATORS

UNAUTHORIZED SPECULATION

Is the Charge Made Against Officers of Company. Their Work Cost
the Company $200,000

MANITOWOC, Wis., May 29.—Official confirmation of reports that the Northern Grain company of this city and Minneapolis, operating two large elevators here and hundreds of smaller ones in Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, is to close its affairs and quit business, was given here in a statement made by C. W. Esplin, manager of the local elevators, who said that all property owned by the company is on the market. The company recently closed its large cold storage plant in this city and abandoned its sheep farm which was conducted in connection with the wool shipping business.

Charges Speculation.

Unauthorized speculation which is said to have cost the company more than $200,000 only a few months ago and other causes are assigned by Mr. Esplin for the closing of the business. He said that no attempt would be made by the present officers and stockholders to reorganize the company. Mismanagement is also charged by Esplin, who was named as manager only a few weeks ago, succeeding J. G. Martin, of this city, who recently retired as president and general manager.

Action of Weyerhaeuser Forces.

O. Weyerhaeuser, the Minneapolis millionaire, is reported to have taken over the company's affairs at the time the difficulties were encountered three months ago, and it is said that he agreed to accept control only on condition that the affairs of the company be closed out and the concern retired from business. It is not anticipated that the elevators here and more than 100 men are employed among the largest on the lakes and valuable property. An office force of twenty people has been employed and they have been notified that the plant will be closed Saturday night.

The retirement of the Northern Grain company will be a severe blow to Manitowoc, as about 100 men were employed in the offices here.

Manitowoc has been the headquarters of the company since 1904, the offices of the company being removed from Chicago at that time.

Rumors of the troubles of the company were circulated as long ago as six months, when it was reported from Chicago, in a statement issued by the company, that it would assume 121 separate trades undertaken by one of its officers. These trades, it is said, cost the company upward of $200,000 and caused the stockholders and directors to investigate, with the result that immediate steps were undertaken to close the business.

The grain company has been in existence for 20 years.

PEOPLE SCARED BY BIG TURTLE

RACINE, Wis., May 29.—After making the long distance by mail, during which time it created no little annoyance and some fear among the postal clerks en route, a Tennessee land gopher was received here yesterday and added to the Water company zoo. The land gopher is an unusual species of mud turtle, considerably larger than the turtles found in this vicinity, and although not at all blood-thirsty, presenting a decidedly terrific and ferocious appearance. As a result the crate by which the animal was sent through the mails was handled most gingerly by the postal employees.

SUIT IS LOST BY HOLY JUMPERS

WAUKESHA, Wis., May 29.—The jury in the $5,000 damage suit of Charles L. Capsel, a member of the "Holy Jumpers," against Sheriff George L. Dwinnell, found for the defendant after being out less than two hours. Capsel and sixteen other members of the sect were arrested May 28, 1907, for making a street disturbance. During their first night in jail they kept up a constant shouting and singing until an early hour in the morning. During the evening a deputy turned a hose on them without avail. Subsequently Capsel and five others commenced damage suits against the sheriff, alleging, besides the water episode, that he had kicked and beaten them. Following the verdict the other five cases were continued over the term.

LOST MIND WHILE HUNTING MURDERER

SHERIFF BARTELME IS PICKED UP IN ST. PAUL

ROAMS WOODS THREE DAYS

Finally Breaks Down After Long
Hunt for Escaped Murderer—
Flashing Gun When Caught

MERRILL, Wis., May 29.—Made temporarily insane through lack of food and the exhaustion of an unsuccessful search for an escaped murderer, Joseph Bartelme, of this city, sheriff of Lincoln county, was picked up by the police and turned over to Sheriff Gergor of St. Paul.

Dressed in blue jeans and flourishing a revolver, Sheriff Bartelme was found promenading the streets. The Wisconsin sheriff's condition is due to exhaustion while prowling the woods in search of a man wanted for murder. For three days he was lost and finally boarded a train. The man was starved and exhausted, and the conductor refused to let him get off the train. The conductor intended to place him in charge of the police at St. Paul.

Bartelme was called to Tomahawk, Wis., from Merrill last Thursday by a message saying a man wanted by the Merrill authorities for murder had been arrested in that city. Upon arrival at Tomahawk, the prisoner was turned over to the officer and he left the jail to return by train.

The prisoner made his escape from the train between Tomahawk and Merrill in the night, and in giving chase, Bartelme was led into the woods, which are dense in that section of the state, and had become so confused that he lost his bearings.

Bartelme is a Manitowoc, Wis., man. He is 43 years old and is well known throughout the northern part of the state. His family consists of a wife and several children.

CHARLES ABRAMS IS A FREE MAN

APPLETON, Wis., May 29.—Chas. Abrams, the New London clothing merchant who was held pending the investigation of the mysterious death of Mrs. Carrie Shaw, the young Hortonville widow whose body was found in the mill pond, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ryan and, on application of District Attorney Rooney, was released. Mr. Rooney declared that he was now satisfied that Mr. Abrams cannot be connected with this case. Abrams proved an alibi.

Upon leaving the court room, in response to a question when and where he had left Mrs. Shaw, Abrams is said to have replied: "At 10:30 o'clock at the west end of the freight depot." He said that they had not been quarreling very much and that she had not threatened suicide.

CATCH ROBBERS IN SCHOOL

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 29.—Larry Rubin and Will McDonald were arrested for robbing the Union school. They were caught with their pockets loaded with spoils. Information reached the police station that a light had been noticed in the school building. Officers Fisher, Smith and Silgen went to the school and after watching the light for a short time entered quietly and captured the robbers who were crouched behind a bench. McDonald confessed that he had robbed a tailoring shop at Green Bay and took clothing to the value of $200.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

APPLETON—Appleton members of the United Commercial Travelers will go in style to the state convention to be held in June at Fond du Lac. All will go attired in paper suits and a special train will be chartered to carry the knights of the road of cities of the Fox river valley to the seat of hilarity.

NEW RICHMOND—There was graduated from the New Richmond High school, with appropriate exercises at Hagan's opera house last night, the largest class in the history of the school.

FENNIMORE—Fire destroyed the city livery and several buildings adjoining. Seven horses met death in the flames. Loss $8,000, partially insured.

OCONOMOWOC—This city is to have a new postoffice building, which is to be ready for occupancy on Sept. 1, by which time the free rural delivery is expected to be inaugurated.

The building will be located on the Wiley and Snyder lot on Main street, and will be 27x75 feet. It is to be of brick and will be two stories high.

OCONOMOWOC—A most unusual catch was made by T. L. McCullagh while fishing on Lac la Belle. He pulled in a large eel, measuring 43 inches long and weighing 6 pounds. The catch is unusual both in point of the size of the fish, and also in that no eels have been caught here in several years.

MUWONAGO—The annual meeting and banquet of the Half Century club was held last evening.

ASKEATON—Owing to the continued wet weather little corn or potatoes have been planted in Brown county as yet and farmers are beginning to feel discouraged over the outlook for a crop.

WAUSAU—The Marathon County Agricultural association will not accept the city's offer of $300 for the use of the fair grounds for the year. The fair grounds were offered to the city as a park during the summer for a fee of $500, and the city council at a recent meeting, declaring the amount too much, turned down the offer, but appropriated $300 as customary for the purpose.

RUBICON—An elaborate wedding took place this morning when Miss

Johanna Gulden was married to Herman Strowig, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Eggers at St. John's church. Nearly 400 guests were entertained at dinner, the festivities lasting throughout the day and concluding with a dance in the evening.

GREN BAY—The senior boys classes of the Turners' gymnasium will go on a long hike on Sunday, making a trip out over Mason street, taking the road to Depere and return.

BELOIT—Upon the complaint of neighbors in that vicinity Bessie Wells, giving her age as 17 years, was taken from a house on Park avenue which has been under the eye of the officers for some time. Disorderly conduct was alleged, and she pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to the Wisconsin industrial school for girls in Milwaukee until she has reached the age of 21 years.

SUPERIOR—Three saloon keepers from Solon Springs will be tried in the Municipal court on June 4 on the charge of selling liquor to minors. They are Charles Lord, Jr., Charles Waterbury and William Wilkinson. They were arraigned on complaint of Harrison Lord, 19 years of age who claimed to have been sold intoxicating liquor by the saloon

FORCED TO LOCK THE DOORS

Fifteen minutes from the time that we opened our doors on Thursday morning we were forced to again close and lock them to enable the clerks to wait on the enormous crowd that filled the store from end to end.

This great sale continues triumphantly here tomorrow, when even the great crowds of the last two days will be eclipsed. More clerks, more cashiers, more wrappers have been provided. The entire $38,000.00 stock of dress goods, silks, linens, domestics, etc., will be almost given away. The situation admits of no delay in raising funds—we must sell—there is no way out of it. Arrange to be here just as early as you can.

NORTHWEST IN BRIEF

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D.—In the circuit court before Judge Rice, Conrad Dahlberg was found guilty by a jury of the larceny of a steer, which he shot while employed on the Ishal Brown ranch in Meade county.

MILES CITY, Mont.—Charles Maljart, a workman on the St. Paul warehouse here, fell off the timbers of the roof yesterday, a distance of about twenty feet, and broke his collar bone.

TOMAH, Wis.—W. L. Howe, quartermaster sergeant of Company K, Third regiment, Wisconsin National guard, has received his appointment as regimental quartermaster with the rank of captain. He takes the post made vacant by the promotion of Capt. John Turner of Mauston to the rank of major.

ABERDEEN, S. D.—The city has decided to continue the work of paving the streets and in a few days bids will be called for to pave several more blocks in the central portion of the city. This part of the program of improvements will be pushed during the present year and it is believed that before next winter many of the streets in the residence portion will be paved.

CROOKSTON, Minn.—The republican county central committee of Red Lake county held a convention at St. Hilaire and the county seat factions took a fling at each other, Red Falls winning out. The convention will be held at Red Lake Falls on June 25 next.

PIERRE, S. D.—The supreme court has denied rehearings in the cases of the state vs. Landers and the state vs. Vey, two men sent from Davison county for life on convictions of murder.

MILES CITY, Mont.—The Custer County Horsemen's association has been created for the purpose of protecting the industry against the introduction of disease by any invasion of the quarantine laws. Dr. Knowles, the state veterinarian, was present at the meeting for organization.

ADmits THEFT OF $25,000

DEADWOOD, S. D., May 29.—George F. Horras of Hot Springs, S. D., formerly cashier of the Hot Springs National bank, who was indicted by the federal grand jury for the embezzlement of $25,000 of the bank's funds, pleaded guilty in the United States district court to three counts against him and will be sentenced this week. His plea was not a surprise, as a strong case had been worked up against him.

GOLF SEASON HERE OPENS TOMORROW

Tomorrow, Memorial Day, the season for golf in La Crosse will be officially opened in La Crosse. The committee appointed some time ago to purchase suitable trophies has completed its work and they will be awarded tomorrow evening. The play will start early in the morning and continue till the evening. At 6 o'clock a table d'hôte dinner will be served and this will be followed by a musical program.

QUITS PLOW TO END LIFE

CROOKSTON, Minn., May 29.—Word reached here of the suicide of James Slonek, a farmer working for his brother in section 31, township of Tabor, Polk county, by a charge of gunshot. He left his plow in the field to take his life. No cause for the suicide can be obtained. Slonek was unmarried and about thirty-five years old.

STOP "BUTTING IN" ON TELEPHONES

MINNESOTA MEN HAVE INVENTION TO STOP "RUBBERING"

IS MADE AT ROCHESTER

Telephone Invention Which Cuts Out All on Party Line Excepting Those Talking

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 29.—Dr. Joseph A. Gates of Kenyon and his uncle, R. C. Livingstone, of Spring Valley, have been in the city for several days, making arrangements with the Conley Camera company to manufacture the first telephone cut off. It consists of a few pieces of brass in a small wooden box which may be easily attached to any telephone between the receiver and transmitter. There are two buttons on the outside of the box. By pressing the upper, the party using the phone calls central or any one between him and central. When he gets his party, he presses the lower button and every one between those two is cut off. If any of those between take down the receiver, he must press one of those buttons, or his telephone will not work. If he does press one of them, he cuts off one of the other parties, and puts himself in the place. By pressing the lower button first, the telephones in the opposite direction are rung and then when the upper button is pressed, the conversation can be carried on to the exclusion of all those in the direction of central.

FINDS "DOCTOR" IN SALOON

WINONA, Minn., May 29.—Lorenzo Sieferman, from near Dover, came to Winona to receive treatment for rheumatism. He went into a saloon and a young man he met there introduced him to another who said he was a doctor who treated rheumatism successfully. Sieferman was taken into a back room and they began to rub his leg, and that is the last he remembers. When he came to he was shy his money, which amounted to about $10. He has identified Frank Elmcke, as the "doctor" and has had him arrested. The other man has not yet been found.

LA CROSSE MERRY WIDOWS INVITED

Representative Grewster of the Milwaukee Free Press is in La Crosse today making arrangements to interest La Crosse girls in the Free Press Merry Widow Girls' contest. Prizes from $1 and a dozen free photographs to $10 and a dozen free photographs are offered for the most attractive picture. Mr. Brewster has made arrangements with Photographer W. A. Fryer to take, free of charge, pictures of the young women, upon presentation of an order from Campbell, the news dealer, agent for the Free Press here. These pictures are to be sent to the Free Press for publication each Sunday until the end of the contest. Details of the contest will be announced in the Tribune's advertising columns later.

LONDON, May 29.—Before emceed the time was inopportune owing to the opposition that has arisen to the king's coming visit to Russia. Fallieres embarked at Dover and a great crowd gave him a royal send-off. At a score or more labor meetings Sunday resolutions will be adopted pleading with King Edward to reconsider the move and abandon his trip to visit Emperor Nicholas.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is like a powerful factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetters, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, Do You Open Your Mouth Like a Young Bird and Gulp Down Whatever Food, or Medicine May be Offered You?

If you are an intelligent, thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true, honest medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of medical practice, are not afraid to print, as they do, the list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, so injurious to delicate women even in small quantities when long continued. Neither does it contain any narcotics, or other harmful, or habit-forming drugs and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised by its manufacturers.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of the several ingredients by some of the leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration? It certainly is entitled to far more weight than any number of non-professional or lay testimonials.

A booklet of ingredients with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysterical spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the female system. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvic backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a waking disquietude, drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is of known composition and has a record of over forty years and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as sacredly confidential and an answer is returned in plain sealed envelope. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for $1 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. They are the original Little Liver Pills having been put out for sale by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. One to three a dose. Tiny sugar-coated granules; easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most potent alternative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, or invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures.

"Tenting It"

JOE LEITER'S WEDDING NOT JUST LIKE EVERYBODY ELSE'S

MISS JULIETTE WILLIAMS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—Probably some time during the coming month of June Joe Leiter and Miss Juliette Williams will be married. This may sound like any ordinary announcement, but as a matter of fact it isn't.

It isn't first, because Joe Leiter is famed from coast to coast for his magnificent extravagance and the swift pace of his prolonged bachelor life. It isn't, in the second place, because Miss Juliette Williams is one of the most beautiful of American maidens, the daughter of an army officer and the possessor of the euphonious and descriptive title of "the peacock girl with the Christy face."

Joe Leiter has done many remarkable things in his day. For a man who is now only 40 years old the swash cut by Joe Leiter certainly is the record for breadth and thickness. Inheriting a million dollars from his father in 1897, he bearded P. D. Armour in the Chicago wheat pit and held wheat cornered for a year, coming out of the battle still fighting though loser, it is said, to the amount of $9,000,000. Settling to work to pay these losses he became a punting champion with such success that six years later he was rated as the possessor of $30,000,000. As a mine owner at Zelger, Ill., he won the respect of striking employees by personally conducting resistance against 400 armed strikers. At the height of the Chicago wheat struggle he displayed his sense of humor by depositing $6,000,000 in P. D. Armour's bank, which gave his veteran antagonist the shock of his life. About this time he was supposed to be engaged to Nina Farrington, the actress. In those days Joe displayed undisguised fondness for ladies of the stage. He gave Miss Farrington repeated dinners and parties and shared his valuable wheat tips with the Casino girl. Over and over again Joe had been reported to be engaged to marry divers and sundry ladies of the stage. After years of cosmopolitan affection Joe Leiter now proposes to settle down as the humble husband of an army officer.

The bride is Miss Juliette Williams and she will inherit the magnificence of millions. Washington society has not yet forgotten the night that Joe and Juliette became acquainted. It was the annual bachelors' ball and as on previous occasions Joe Leiter shone among the bachelor hosts. The ball was not far advanced when there entered the room a figure that made the promenaders stand still and for the first time in his life made Joe Leiter think. It was the figure of a young girl, tall and slender and dressed most attractively. Not only was she personally attractive, but the dress itself was a memorable wonder. It was of fine white silk tissue made full and flowing, with the skirt ending in a full train. Beginning at the waist line in small lines and trailing off at the bottom of the skirt were hand painted peacock feathers. The bodice was decorated in the same way and arranged to spread from the waist line upwards in imitation of the flaunting tail of the peacock. The slippers that went with the gown were embroidered in peacock feathers. This was Miss Juliette Williams, daughter of Lieut. Col. J. R. Williams, U. S. A., home from the Philippines and stationed in Delaware.

This is the girl whom Leiter is to marry. Plans for the season have been made. After the wedding trip Mr. Leiter will take his bride to spend the summer with his mother at Manchester-by-the-Sea and in the fall they will go abroad to visit the Countess Suffolk, who was formerly Miss Margaret Leiter and Mrs. Colin Campbell, formerly Miss Nancy Leiter.

BAND MAKES IT LIVELY

CROOKSTON, Minn., May 29.—Amid wild enthusiasm and attended by the entire Crookston band, Ames Henge a prominent young Crookston railroad man, boarded the Great Northern flyer here with his bride, formerly Miss Hilda Lundeen. Henge is a member of the band, and his musical mates promenaded the streets with a merry throng to take the bridal couple to the train. Hundreds of people collected about the Great Northern station and delayed the departure of the train. No man who dodges his earthly taxes can lay up treasures in heaven.

WILD SCENES AS ARMOUR SQUEEZES THE SHORTS

ATTACK MADE ON BOTH MAY CORN AND MAY OATS

WALL STREET OPENS STIFF

Bank Trading and Sharp Advances Restore Confidence in Leading Issues

CHICAGO, May 29.—The price of May wheat shot up to $1.11 today during one of the most spectacular flurries the Chicago pit has seen in months.

A bad slump in May corn and an unexpected slump in May oats also featured the day.

J. Ogden Armour, popularly believed to have a corner on May wheat, kept his grip on the market and maintained the high price right to the close, when it sold at 110 1/2.

Armour has steadily refused to settle privately, insisting on actual delivery of the grain, and the result was a wild scene in the pit after the noon hour, which sent the price to the record figure of $1.11. Armour is reported to have cleaned up a large fortune by his operations.

May corn had even a more spectacular day. It opened at yesterday's high figure and the early belief was that most of the shorts who were caught in J. A. Patten's "corner" had covered, and the result was light trading. Just before noon some one, identity unknown, began selling May corn heavily and the result was a slump to 77 1/2-c. The Patten crowd checked the slump by buying heavily, and the price shot up again to 82c, closing at 80c. Patten had also been operating largely in oats, and it is generally reported that this deal turned out disastrously for him. There was no sensation in oats until the last hour, when the shorts buying ran it to 56 5/8-c. This figure was not maintained, however, as the pit suddenly was flooded with oats, the price tumbled 5c to 5 1/2-c.

Cattle Are Strong. CHICAGO, May 29.—With moderate receipts all around cattle ruled strong today, while sheep declined 10 cents and hogs 5 cents, nearly balancing the gain of yesterday.

Cattle, 15,000; beefs, $6 to 7.25; stockers, $3.30 to $5.35. Hogs, 16,000; light, $5.15 to $5.52 1/2; heavy, $5.30 to $5.75; pigs, $4.25 to $5.00. Sheep, 7,000; natives, $3.40 to $5.75; lambs, $4 to $6.40.

Kansas City Livestock. KANSAS CITY, May 29.—Cattle, 3,000; steers, $5.25 to $7.10; stockers, $3.40 to $5.25. Hogs, 10,000; 5 cents lower; bulk, $5.30 to $5.50; pigs, $4.25 to $4.60. Sheep, 5,000; steady; mittens, $4 to $4.50; lambs, $5.25 to $6.50.

Stocks Recover Handily.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The market was strong in the first hour and nearly everything traded in made gains ranging from fractions to over two points in that period, caused a partial restoration of confidence by the ease with which quotations were advanced with little outside assistance. London helped along the improvement, buying about 10,000 shares on the balance, and a better understanding of the relations of the subsidiary lines to the Wash system checked the selling pressure in that group. Both Wash preferred and Missouri Pacific advanced two points. Northern Pacific also rose over a point. The feature of the market was the limiting of active trading to half a dozen stocks. Government bonds were unchanged; others quiet.

Poultry, Dairy, Etc.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Poultry, unchanged. Butter, creamery, 22 1/2-c. Eggs, nearby white, 19c. Cheese, creams, 14 3/4-c.

TODAY'S GRAIN GOSSIP

GRAIN OPINIONS.

Pringle F. & R. say: With the May deals closing today and a holiday following the action of the market is uncertain but we lean to buying side on such breaks as these.

Ware and Leland: With May deals out of the way we look for good active markets and believe that purchases can safely be made on breaks.

Bartlett F. & C.: We cannot help but feel that the southwest situation is far less serious than many of the advices would indicate.

LABOR COMMISSION SEEMS A PUZZLE

PRESIDENT IS INVESTIGATING
THE CANAL ZONE

NO TROUBLE EXISTS THERE

And Improved Conditions is Inducement to Laboringmen, but Investigation Goes On

Washington Bureau of
The La Crosse Tribune
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.
(By J. C. Welliver.)

The project for a magnificent extension of the canal grounds, to the north and northeast from the present limits, so as to take in some 38 acres of additional territory, has received a long lift at this session towards ultimate realization. It is firmly believed by the men who have long been working to secure this extension, that in a few years at most it will be made possible to carry out the project.

One feature of the development scheme, as is well known, is to build a memorial to Lincoln which shall be one of the world's greatest monuments; as great and striking in its way as the Washington monument, or the tomb of the Invalides in Paris.

But beyond this, and beyond the project of greatly extending the capitol hill park, it is in mind to erect another wonderful building, for the supreme court, which shall be the equal in beauty and splendor of the library of congress. The latter, universally conceded to be the most beautiful building in the new world, and by many called the most magnificent architectural confection of strictly modern times, is strictly an American production, designed by American architects, engineers and builders. Properly to balance off the building scheme of Capitol Hill there is demand for another structure which should add one more to the number of architectural show places of the continent, and that should be entirely distinctive in design and development. It must be appropriate to its function: a splendid architectural representation of the present day ideal of justice as embodied in American conceptions.

Want to Be Let Alone.
There is one difficulty about carrying out the plan, and that is the reluctance of the supreme court to be crowded out of its present quarters in the senate wing of the capitol. The supreme court room, once the senate chamber, is a place of peculiarly hallowed and impressive memories; and the members of the court are said, almost without exception, prefer to be let alone. They like to be in the capitol building, and to feel that they are a living and breathing part of the system of government. They have a notion that is poked off into never so beautiful a palace of justice, they would be lost to the animation and life and interest of the great forum in which the business of legislation is carried on.

However, the supreme court, even, can't help itself if congress decided to build a palace for it. It will have to move to the marble pile prepared for its reception. The ambition to crown Capitol hill with the most splendid group of buildings in any capital in the world, may make it necessary to jolt the court out of its comfortable rut, whether or no.

H. C. EGAN GETS NEW GOLF RECORD

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 29.—Without exerting himself to much extent H. Chandler Egan, former national champion, reduced the course record here in the first medal play inaugurating the seventh annual tournament of the Southern Golf association when he traversed the Memphis Country club course in 73, equaling the professional record of 34 for the first nine holes and lowering the amateur record created by himself by three strokes.

Sixty-four players qualified in the largest tourney ever held in the southern states. Egan, who is representing the Louisville club, is conceded the southern championship, his playing proving a revelation to the players and spectators in this section.

In some circles it is charged that Egan is not legally eligible, having just been elected.

"There's a Reason"

In token of Reverent Remembrance of Those Loyal Heroes Who So Bravely Went to the Front in '61 and Died Upon Southern Battlefields that the Union Might be Preserved, We Shall Close Our Store Tomorrow at Noon—12:30. That All Our Helpers May Attend the Memorial Exercises. The Store Will Reopen in the Evening at 7 O'clock to accommodate Saturday evening shoppers.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Thought of Decoration Day:
"The man who died for his country well deserves the honor to be accorded him tomorrow. Yet remember this, it requires no less bravery—demands no less honor—to LIVE for one's country."

STORES AND WARS:

The campaigning in many respects is much the same. An army prepares for its battle part by part. The scouts glide forward feeling their way; then a line of cavalry makes a sally, seemingly only to test its strength, while here and there from the hill tops fitfully the big guns boom.

Then, all of a sudden, how or by what manner we scarcely know, WE ARE ALL INTO ACTION AT ONCE. The musketry is rattling like the rip of a saw, cavalry is riding with its neck bare and its right arm swinging free, while from the heights the gunners load and fire and load and fire, ever turning their great projectiles to the heavy work.

And so it is with a great store in a season's commercial campaign: feeling its way into the thoughts and desires of the people and the demands of the sky; until, suddenly, the new season swoops down upon your liberty, your comfort and your happiness. And then it is that THE WHOLE STORE GOES INTO ACTION, man and merchandising, to fight on the great commercial battle of the day.

The summer's here; the big campaign is on and we're busy from the basement to the roof.

AN ORATORICAL CONTEST HERE

The state oratorical contest comes off in La Crosse on the evening of June 2nd at the High school auditorium. The local district will be represented by Paul Esch and each of the other six districts will send one man to the contest. The seven contestants who take part in this contest compose the cream of the state as each man is the winner in some district contest. The lucky one in the contest which comes off next Tuesday evening will bear the title of state champion. A price of admission will be charged and the gate receipts will be used in paying the expenses of the judges. The jury will be composed of men who do not reside in the neighborhood and it is the object of the committee in charge to get the jurors from as widely distant parts of the state as possible. This will prevent any prejudice from influencing the vote of the jury.

Our special Saturday and Sunday offer, 5c will buy one of our celebrated 10c Larinca cigars Saturday, and Sunday. Made of the finest Port Rican tobacco. Fay Lewis & Bros. Co. The store of quality.

RECEIVE RULES OF PISTOL CONTEST

Local militia officers have received circulars from Adj. General Boardman giving out the regulations to govern the contest for the "King revolver" contest which is to be held during the annual encampment at Camp Douglas. The prize is given every year by General King and is eagerly sought by the crack pistol shots in the regiment.

LA CROSSE MAN IS TAKEN ILL

While walking along the streets in Minneapolis, Levi King, residing at 618 North Ninth street in this city, was stricken with paralysis. He is a well known marine engineer. He has recovered sufficiently to be transferred to his home in this city. Although his condition is critical he will survive.

USING THE X-RAY ON AN ELEPHANT

In an effort to locate a diamond ring, valued at $450 which an elephant had swallowed while eating peanuts, three expert X-ray operators and four elephant trainers were called upon. A whole day photographing by the X-ray process the entire interior of the elephant. It is the first time in the history of the science that X-ray photographs have ever been made of an elephant. In making the pictures the largest X-ray apparatus ever made was used and the manufacturer himself, J. R. Kelley of the Kelley-Koett company of Covington, Ky., superintended the operation.

The sides of the elephant were marked off into sections and numbered. A diagram was also made with corresponding numbers and this will serve to locate the exact spot in which the missing ring is lodged.

No thief or criminal ever objected more strenuously to being "mugged" for the rogie's gallery than did this elephant when the attempt was made to make the X-ray photographs. At first it was necessary to allow the elephant to become accustomed to the crackling of the X-ray tube, which took nearly an hour. Then, when she was induced to lie down upon the platform containing the sensitive X-ray plate, and the Crook's tube was held over the first section, she became frightened at the glare in the tube and again over an hour was spent in getting her accustomed to the glare. At last the elephant was convinced that the men were not trying to do her harm and she remained comparatively quiet while several plates were exposed. Then an accident happened. The elephant received a shock from one of the wires leading to the tube. With an ear-piercing trumpet she leaped to her feet and only the quickest movements on the part of the operators saved the valuable machinery from wreckage. She was quieted with a liberal portion of hay and about three pounds of sugar. After being led around awhile she was blindfolded and gave no further trouble. She lay down and arose at the command whenever it became necessary to change the plates.

FIRST DROWNING AT DESOTA, WIS.

SKIFF TURNS TURTLE WITH YOUNG FISHERMEN

WILL NELSON IS DROWNED

Glen Bartholomew is Saved, but Other Lad Goes Down; Woman Sees the Accident

While standing in a boat in mid-river, Will Nelson, aged 19, and a resident of De Sota, was thrown into the water and lost his life.

Nelson and his friend, Glen Bartholomew, were fishing out of an open boat. In mid-stream Olson was standing up when the boat turned turtle, throwing him out. He never came to the surface. His friend hung to the boat until rescued. Mrs. Corwell, who was standing on the bank, witnessed the accident, but was powerless to render any assistance. The body was recovered about an hour after the accident, but he could not be resuscitated.

The funeral was held from the home in De Sota today and interment was made in the cemetery at Victory.

TEACHER'S MOTHER SICK

Miss Hatz, teacher of the fourth grade at the Fifth district school on the north side, has received word that her mother is seriously ill at her home in Bangor. School was dismissed and Miss Hatz left on the first train for Bangor. No further reports have been received from her as yet.

Edith (doefully)—"Now I've grown so horribly stout, I suppose you won't love me as much as you used to?" Harry—"On the contrary, darling, I shall see more of you that is lovable."
